

BED BUGS

Not just in beds

In spite of what their name might suggest, bed bugs can be found in places other than beds. While bed bugs are most often found in beds, where they can feast on people while they sleep, the pest control experts at Terminix® note that bed bugs can be found on anything that's upholstered.

That includes chairs and couches, but also curtains and carpets. Bed bugs also may be lurking behind dressers or beneath beds. Some might even be hiding behind beds by attaching themselves to headboards. Bed bugs also can attach to clothing, which is how bed bug infestations in public places like movie theaters can quickly turn into bed bug infestations at home.
